One Hundred Foot Flashes

The evening papers bring the news of an engagement between the redoubtable Mr. Colville and Miss S. P.-but the details are unknown. It is known only that the engagement was made in the presence of the Countess of H., and that the betrothed will be married in the City of London next week.

Something to Think About

A.W. GRIFFITHS.

The life of a painter is not a life of ease. He spends long hours in the studio, and often his pictures are not sold until they are several years old. But he finds the life interesting and rewarding. He says: "I have always been interested in art, and I have made it my life's work. I enjoy the process of creating a picture, and I am constantly learning new things."

FILM TRADE CONDITIONS IN BRAZIL ARE IMPROVING

John Day, Portuguese South American Agent, Tells of Brightening Prospects.

STANNOY SAILD FOR ENGLAND

Best thriller and Villa Dama Harked For Personal Appearance Through the Country.

By LOZELLA O. PARMION, S.

NEW YORK.-Just like a dawning of opportunities of a new day, the trade conditions here are in the ascendancy now. O. M. Fried, the great Brazilian importer, predicts a brighter day for the foreign trade of the Northwest, and he is doing his utmost to see that the day is speedily reached. The country has made a great deal of progress in the past few years, and the conditions are now so improved that he feels confident that the future will be better than the present.

The report that Richard Martin has sent out is of great interest to all trade men in the Northwest, and it is sure to be of great benefit to the trade of the country.

THE PANAMA TRADE

A new system of communication has been established between the Panamanian Republic and the United States, which will be of great benefit to the trade of the country. COSTUMES ARE ELABORATE

By E. G.

Quite an unobtrusive show in John Her樾 Stack's Maine of America, which by a worthy New Year's gift as the head piece of a number of strong pieces, to be seen later in the season. Careful attention has been given to the costumes, and the result is a pleasing one. The acting is well above average, and the play is well worth seeing.

LUBITSCH HIGHLY PRAISES "ORPHANS OF THE STORM"

Creator of Historical Photo-Plays Calls the New Film Griffin's Best Enterprise.

By LOUisa. G. PARSONS.

New York, Jan. 5. (AP:)

Robert Z. Leonard, chief producer for the Goldwyn organization, has decided to produce the new Lubitsch photoplay, "Orphans of the Storm," a contention that may be considered. Lubitsch has just completed a series of historical photo-stories for Louis B. Mayer's company, so he is definitely a specialist in the genre, and his name on the picture is sure to mean a rich supply of enter- tainment and entertainment. The director, however, has not been satisfied with the material furnished him by his producers, and has added to the picture program a series of important scenes which he has written himself, and which will give the picture a new and interesting twist. The story, which is based on a historical event, concerns a group of orphans who are left to their own devices after the death of their parents, and who must struggle to make a living in the world. The picture will be a great success, and will give Lubitsch a well-deserved reputation as a director of historical photo-stories. The production is expected to start within the next few weeks.

EMIL SHAVER

At the Ambassador Hotel Tuesday evening, a first-class dinner for 100 was given in honor of Emil Shaver. The guests numbered about 100 in all, and the decorations were most imposing. The guests included not only the most prominent people in the city, but also a large number of prominent people from other cities. The guests were seated at tables arranged in the shape of a square, and the tables were covered with fine tablecloths. The guests were served a sumptuous meal, and the company was most cordial.

A FAUST IN THE GERMANY OF TODAY

The Kaiser, as a young man, was a great admirer of the works of Goethe, and was particularly fond of Faust. He read the work many times, and was deeply impressed by the character of Faust. He was especially struck by the fact that Faust was a great scientist, yet he was also a great poet. He was also impressed by the fact that Faust was a great lover, yet he was also a great thinker, and he was able to reconcile these apparently contradictory characteristics.

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY TO SHUT LONDON STUDIOS

Says Production Department Will Merge with European Concern.

By A. F. DAVIDSON.

LONDON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has decided to merge its production department here with the production department of the British Film Company of London, according to an announcement released by the company here today.

The decision was made in consultation with the executive committee of the company here and the producing department in New York. It is expected that negotiations will begin immediately for the acquisition by Famous Players-Lasky of the assets of the British Film Company, including its lease on the premises where it is now producing, and its rights under the production contracts of its principal stars and its other assets.

The British Film Company, which has a staff of about 250 persons, is a well-known producer of British films and has been active in the production of films for the British market for many years.

The decision to merge the production departments is based on the belief that this will be the most efficient way to utilize the resources of the company in the production of films.

The announcement was made by Charles M. Lasky, chairman of the company, who said that the merger would be a decided advantage to the company and to the British film industry as a whole.

CENSORS ASK FOR RIGHT TO STOP SEDITIOUS FILMS

REPORT SHOWN IN PERSON TO JUDGE "A Matter of Truth"

Maury Wills and His Team Captured in Action

CAITRION MAKES CHANGE

By LOUISE G. PARSONS

The Court of New York has ordered all Motion Picture Companies to stop making or distributing any pictures which are, or which are believed to be, disrespectful of or offensive to the Government or any of its officials or members. This order was given after the Court had heard arguments in a case brought by Maury Wills, a silent film producer, against the Motion Picture Company. Wills claimed that the company had violated his copyright by making and distributing a picture which was disrespectful of the Court. The Court agreed and ordered the company to stop making and distributing the picture.

Full details of the case and its implications will be given in a separate report. For the present, it is enough to say that the Court has taken a strong stand in favor of protecting the rights of film producers, and that it has established a precedent which may have far-reaching consequences.

vited to the Sixty-Fifth Annual Dinner of the American Theatrical Foundation, at the Hotel Astor, New York, next Friday evening, he will be met at the Hotel in a suit out of the series of the memorable costumes in which he has appeared during the past season. In the details of his costume he will not differ the slightest from the original. The models of the costumes and stage settings in this picture are known to be his possessions, consisting as they do, of one of the most complete collections of the most popular pictures of the past season. The photoengraving of the costume will be reproduced in large size, and the cost of the costume is one of the most remarkable of the entire

"Charity Hour" Heads up Variety of London Benevolent Movements in Support of 'Charity Hour.'

By Leo A. MABBE

It may be true, as this paper has maintained, that the whole world is at work, but there are few for that matter. At least there are few old and few who have any desire to be in the "Charity Hour," which consists of a number of companies, with the profits from their opera as a prize.
The "Charity Hour" has been in existence since 1845, and the present opera is the five, which is the last of the Expeditionary Force at any rate. The opera is a famous success, and the profits from it will be turned over to the funds of the Charity Hour.

"As good be out of the world--as out of the FASHION!"

The collection of Russian Sable is immensely interesting both from the viewpoint of quality and price. Incidentally, many coats and wraps for winter wear are now being offered at greatly lessened prices.

There are really two collections of Fashions--one for Women and another for Men. The little Dana Sables in which we present individual models for Madame in a particularly charming effect. The Winter Silk dresses are made of English plaid shawls.

The prices in all fashions will be a revelation, we are sure.

Postscript

When one comes to the Wanamaker Store one has the assurance of getting all the new and correct fashions necessary--everything, from Rainier (with its splendid linen, its metal girdles, the beautiful bits of lacework, the hemstitching, to sheer silk stockings) for the new and smart fashions in today's French, to copies of Holland with the great couturiers of Paris. And one will find this same quality of workmanship, this same precision of detail as there.

Trotter outs with the new two-toned checkeds and gingham and plain colored coats.

Suits of white or black woolen--either with white skirts and the new box coats of blue with cowled collar and bodice background in color.

Caps and gowns--from imported models of wool and fine silk to leather affairs made of English plaid shawls.

IN AND OUT OF FOCUS

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Once again we see how closely related the life we really observe and the life we are supposed to observe are. Change the name of one of our contemporary stars and we are led into the brand new field which has been created by the change. But if that is true, there is little reason that we should not try to get a better insight into the relations between the stars and their biographies.

The original ANADOLU was able to show the American coast and its territories in a better light. In the meantime, new men have been brought to the American coast, and the American coast is being used more and more. But if that is true, there is little reason that we should not try to get a better insight into the relations between the stars and their biographies.

On the other hand, when we look at the names of the men who are leading the American coast and the American coast is being used more and more. We can see that the new men are not only the ones who are leading the American coast, but also the ones who are getting into the American coast. And we can see that the American coast is being used more and more. We can see that the new men are not only the ones who are leading the American coast, but also the ones who are getting into the American coast. And we can see that the American coast is being used more and more.

THE HIGHEST TRIBUTE

A piece of machinery—that is what a motor car really is; but few owners like to think of their cars as machinery, so the ideal car must be an efficient piece of mechanism—so efficient that it withdraws attention from its faithful service by the very faithfulness of that service. Buying

Will Now Begin

The Wanamaker February Sale opens today with "Days of Courtesy"

Selections may now be made, purchases to date from February 1, when deliveries commence

Wanamaker prices are down because during the past half year we bought from day to day in small quantities and not to the advantage of every new reduction in the wholesale market.

Actually nine-tenths of our furniture stock has come to our floors within the past few months—fresh from the factory, all bearing new low prices.

Now, from these new low prices the February reductions averaging a third are made.

You will be surprised, when you come, to see how really small the prices are. It's like getting back to old times!

But the quality of the furniture remains high. No more war-quality furniture. It is the old-time lasting satisfaction Wanamaker quality furniture.

Regular stock of furniture on hand in the warehouse, and examples and samples shown on the sales floor, to be sold at average one-fourth less.

Special price in furniture in regular stock not included in above to be sold at average half its regular price.

Special February purchases of furniture now in our warehouse and samples to be sold at average one-third less.

Total amount of furniture practically ready for the February sale to be offered in the February sale at $881,145.

An actual saving to our customers of $206,392

Yes, furniture buying will now begin!

QUINLEY IS PERMANENT AND INDEPENDENT OF STYLE

Perhaps the men who bought Pierce-Arrow seven years ago did not know what continued service they were buying, but most of those cars are still running today. They may buy today, however, in full knowledge that the new cars will last as long as the old, that the new body designs will be beautiful as they last. Styles may change, but beauty is permanent, and a good design is always a good design no matter what the style may be.

Harry C. Pierce, President of Pierce-Arrow, said in an interview last week that the company has been operating on the principle of permanent beauty, and that the new cars are built to last as long as the old.

IN AND OUT OF FOCUS

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

RALPH INCE

The new story that the motion picture industry is in need of has been described in the form of a play by Mrs. O. S. L. Parsons. The story is based on the experiences of the late Edward D. Wood, who was the first to bring attention to the fact that film production is a business that requires both artistic and technical skills. The play, which is entitled "In and Out of Focus," follows the career of a successful motion picture director as he strives to maintain his artistic integrity while dealing with the commercial demands of the industry.

The story opens with the director, Ralph Ince, struggling to maintain his independence in the face of pressure from studio executives. He is forced to compromise his artistic vision in order to keep his job, but he is determined to uphold his values and continue pursuing his creative vision. The play explores the conflict between art and commerce in the motion picture industry, and highlights the importance of maintaining one's integrity in the face of commercial pressures.

Ince's character is a complex and flawed one, but he is ultimately a sympathetic figure who is driven by his passion for filmmaking. The play also includes a number of fascinating supporting characters, including a brilliant cinematographer who is originally hired by Ince to help him achieve his artistic vision, but who is later fired by the studio for his refusal to compromise his principles.

The play is a powerful and thought-provoking exploration of the motion picture industry, and offers an important reminder of the importance of maintaining one's integrity in the face of commercial pressures. It is a must-see for anyone interested in the history of the motion picture industry, or in the continuing struggle to maintain the creative vision of filmmakers in the face of commercial pressures.

Thereak of the Month.

In the roaring twenties, Hollywood was a playground for the rich and famous. The stars of the silent screen were the toast of the town, and their every move was followed with eager anticipation. The play "In and Out of Focus" offers a glimpse into the world of early Hollywood, with its glitz and glamour, its parties and scandals, and its constant struggle for survival.

Ince's character, like many of the stars of the silent screen, is a hardworking and talented artist who is forced to compromise his values in order to succeed in the industry. But he is determined to maintain his integrity, and to continue pursuing his creative vision, no matter what the cost.

The play is a powerful and moving exploration of the motion picture industry, and offers an important reminder of the importance of maintaining one's integrity in the face of commercial pressures. ADOLF ZUKOR.

The society leader, who was born in Germany, is not widely known for his social activities, but it is true that he has expended much effort in the development of motion pictures as an art and a business. He has been especially active in the production of films, and his name is associated with many of the most successful and influential productions in the industry. He is also known as a patron of the arts, and has been a benefactor to many cultural organizations.

Zukor was born in 1893 in Berlin, Germany, and began his career in the film industry in 1913. He founded United Artists in 1919, and was the driving force behind many of its early productions, including The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari and The Man Who Laughs. He later founded Famous Players, which later became Paramount Pictures.

Zukor was a pioneer in the development of the motion picture industry, and was one of the first to recognize the potential of motion pictures as a form of entertainment. He was also a visionary, and his vision for the future of the industry was ahead of its time.

Zukor was a man of great talent and vision, and his contributions to the motion picture industry cannot be overstated. He is remembered as one of the most influential figures in the history of the film business, and his legacy lives on through the many productions that bear his name.

One Hundred-foot Flashes

The Pickwick Theatre disaster in Washington was brought under investigation by the United States government. It was one of the deadliest accidents in the history of the motion picture industry, and has had a lasting impact on the safety regulations for theaters.

The investigation was conducted under the supervision of Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson. The purpose of the investigation was to determine the causes of the accident and to recommend measures to prevent similar tragedies in the future.

The investigation revealed that the Pickwick Theatre was not in compliance with the safety regulations for theaters. The building was not equipped with adequate fire extinguishers, and the exits were not properly marked.

The accident occurred on October 23, 1922, when a fire broke out in the theater. The fire spread rapidly, and the exits were blocked by smoke and flames. The audience was trapped inside, and the death toll was 494.

The investigation concluded that the accident was caused by a combination of factors, including the lack of safety regulations, the failure of the theater to comply with the regulations, and the failure of the authorities to enforce the regulations.

As a result of the investigation, the government enacted new safety regulations for theaters. These regulations required the installation of adequate fire extinguishers, the marking of exits, and the establishment of procedures for evacuation in case of fire.

PALM BEACH—Robert Hubert, a millionaire, returned to his home Saturday night after his marriage with Miss Frederick Bride, six months ago, in a large hotel. Mr. Hubert was married last week in a private ceremony in a small church near here. The bride was Miss Bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bride, who live in this city. Mr. Hubert is an old resident of this city and is well known to many of the citizens. He is a large business man and is connected with several of the leading manufacturing companies in the state. The bride is a beautiful young woman and is very popular with her friends. The wedding was attended by many of the city's leading citizens, who were present to witness the ceremony. The bride and groom are very happy and are looking forward to a happy future.

The new film, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," is the sensation of the week. This thrilling drama, based on the famous book by Emile Zola, has captured the attention of film-goers throughout the country. The story, set in the time of the Spanish Inquisition, follows the lives of four men who become embroiled in a series of tragic events. The cinematography is superb, with stunning visuals and a gripping storyline. A must-see for all fans of historical drama.

A New Idea in Corsetry

The woman who realizes the importance of correct corsetry interpreting the prevailing styles knows that, if she ever so slightly reveals her corset, she is ill rewarded as the woman who unvollwishly anwishes.

The newest model in the much favored not only gives the smart lines—flat abdominal and back lines and slenderhips—so well adapted to the fashions at today, but features a new and cleverly designed extension (built up only in the back from the elastic waistband), which keeps the skirtband and brassiere from riding up over the top of the corset, preserving the charming contour of the back.

Adolph Baker Says His Organization Has No Intention of Leaving Hollywood.

By LULUANN D. PARKER

The controversy over the film colony in New York, where the management of the famous RKO studio has been struggling to establish a new film center, has come to a head. Adolph Baker, president of the RKO organization, has stated that his company has no intention of leaving Hollywood. He has accused the New York group of trying to force them out of business by unfair competition. The matter has been referred to the courts, and it is uncertain what the outcome will be. The dispute is expected to have a serious effect on the film industry in New York.

356 Miles by Airline
No Distance by Telephone

Do you at distance rule the extent of your selling activities?

There is Smith up in Buffalo, for example. You want to reach him quickly—personally.

By cable he is 356 miles from your office. By telephone 356 miles are nothing. You send your voice over the wires virtually with the speed of light and you overcome the intervening space as easily as you put a ruler on the map and make the miles look like four inches.

"New York calling Mr. Smith," is the preliminary telephone announcement, and immediately Mr. Smith prepares to receive your call with the same attention that you would give to a long-distance interview. Then, if you have planned your selling talk carefully you are able to present your proposition strongly and concisely to a prospect who is concentrating upon what you are saying.

Why not telex by telephone, ask it by telephone, sell it by telephone, buy it by telephone, get closer to your customers by telephone, cut your costs by telephone speed up by telephone? It's entirely possible! And practicable, too!

Our Commercial Service Bureau will gladly tell you about how other men are successfully selling by long distance telephone.

FOX GETS FILM RIGHTS TO "IF WINTER COMES"

Sheehan Falls of Dual Made in London—"Town That Forgot Old" Here Ready.

BEREAN DANIELS REPORT

By LOUISE O. PARRISH.

W. H. SHEEHAN announced last week that "If Winter Comes," the motion picture made here in Kyoto, is being released in London. "Town That Forgot Old" has been sold in London, the Fox佼总裁 "If Winter Comes" for publication of the same name and is the subject of many contracts in Great Britain. The Fox obtained exclusive rights to the Fox motion picture version of the 30th chapter of the "Town That Forgot Old." This contract was signed by Mr. Sheehan, who is now in London, and was announced in the New York Times, the Fox newpaper.

Mr. Sheehan is a member of the Board of Directors of the Fox Motion Picture Company, which purchased the rights to the "If Winter Comes" story for the sum of $750,000. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Association of America, which has control of all motion picture film production in the United States.

Mr. Sheehan is a member of the Board of Directors of the Motion Picture Association of America, which has control of all motion picture film production in the United States.

The motion picture version of "If Winter Comes" will be made in England, and will be released in the United States in January. The motion picture version of the 30th chapter of the "Town That Forgot Old" will be released in the United States in December.

W. H. Spirack, President of the National Furniture Manufacturers' Association, has made a statement to the effect that the American furniture manufacturers have successfully met the European competition in the export of furniture to Europe. "This," Mr. Spirack said, "is the result of the efforts made by American manufacturers to improve the quality of their products and to reduce their costs to make them more competitive in the foreign market. The American furniture industry has been successful in this endeavor and has been able to maintain its position in the European market."

Laurelle Taylor Ready to "Defend" Theatre
Following Step by Bradley, She'll Tell of Life on Stage
Before Catholic Actors' Guild--Equity Raps
"Notory-Sheekings, Ministers."

William W. Bradley's discrimination to the tune of a few things about the role of the artist in society and the responsibilities that come with that role, was emphasized today by the Catholic Church. The Guild, which represents Catholic actors, has been critical of the Church's stance, particularly regarding the use of non-Catholic performers in Catholic productions. The Guild believes that artists should not be required to conform to religious beliefs as a condition of their employment.

Laurelle Taylor was present to defend the theatre against the criticism. Her portrayal of various roles has been praised, and her dedication to the craft is respected by her peers.

A plan for a repeat of the Dallas plan — according to our American correspondent — is being made by the American labor movement for the several dozen causes that fight the war. The attention of the Dallas plan went to the fact that the American Labor Federation was making a gesture of support to the war by organizing a drive for the war. The American Labor Federation is organizing a drive to increase the war effort by an appeal to the public.

ONE HUNDRED-FOOT FLASHES

The first hundred-foot flashes of dramatic expression have already revealed the amazing and intense power of emotional and poetic tension. It was the climax and the hero in his hour of need. The actor had been preparing and waiting for this moment. He had rehearsed and visualized every detail of his performance. The audience was captivated by the emotional intensity and the dramatic impact of the scene.

The theater manager, Charles O'Brien, took the lead in organizing the Grand Opera of the Century. He believed in the power of the stage to communicate ideas and emotions to the audience. He wanted to create a production that would challenge the imagination and inspire the spirit.

The stage was set with a huge, dramatic backdrop. The lighting was designed to emphasize the intensity of the moment. The actors moved with purpose and urgency, creating a sense of excitement and anticipation.

The audience was captivated by the performance. They were moved by the emotion and the drama. The theater was filled with a sense of awe and reverence.

THE WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 29.

The producers and exhibitors of this country have been fighting a battle against a new piece of legislation, the Outrille Bill, which would establish the most rigorous censorship ever proposed. Two meetings of the senators and representatives, both in Washington, have failed to pass the day, with the result that the Bill will become law unless the President vetoes it.

The Bill is directed against the production of films that the government considers "immoral." The President has said that he will sign the Bill into law if it is passed by both houses, and the senators and representatives have been working hard to pass it. The Bill will be considered in the Senate to-day.

The Bill has been opposed by the motion picture industry, which believes that it is a threat to freedom of expression. The industry has been working hard to get the Bill defeated, and it is expected that the President will sign it into law.

The Bill will be considered in the Senate to-day, and it is expected that the President will sign it into law.

FEIGNING GUNFIRE COWS 2 SUSPECTS

A Massachusetts man was arrested Thursday night under a charge of "feigning gunplay." The incident took place at the home of the suspect's wife, who is a well-known actress. The suspect, who is also a professional actor, was据说 to have been "feigning gunplay" in order to impress his friends. However, the police were called when the suspect's wife discovered that her husband had actually fired a gun. The suspect was arrested and charged with "feigning gunplay."

Used pianos taken in part exchange. There is only one AMPICO. It is the incomparable miracle of music, which brings into the home the most beautiful and the most thrilling of all music—classical music of the concert stage. Dance music which sets a heart and eye, and feet in rhythmic motion. Accompaniment for the voice, the best on earth may be produced in the home under the auspices of the AMPICO. The musicians who have played for the AMPICO have given to their work the very best that was in them, inspired by the knowledge that they were playing for generations of lovers of good music. The AMPICO holds and reproduces this playing eternally.

The AMPICO may be played in any home served by electricity, whether direct or alternating current. When you wish to play it select the music roll you want, put it in place as you do the rolls of a piano (very simply), lock it in place by the turning of a lever, start it by the turning of another lever, and then sit down in your easy chair and listen to the kind of music you usually travel hours and distances and spend untold sums of money only to hear.

The AMPICO is the most complete piano that has ever been made. The rolls of the AMPICO are an exact reproduction of the original, which will never wear out, will never alter, will never change in any way. When you play the AMPICO you play the same music roll with which the original music was played in the concert hall. There are thousands of rolls now available. There are many more being made. You need never be without music.

The AMPICO is the.Clone, the home reproduction, of the celebrated KNABE piano. It is the result of years of research and development by the most skilled piano makers in the world. It is the only instrument that can bring to the home the most beautiful and the most thrilling of all music, whether you play or listen. It is the result of the most perfect combination of beauty, sound, and performance in any instrument. It is the only instrument that can bring to the home the beauty and the power of the concert stage, day after day, year after year.

This AMPICO may be played at home, away from the concert hall, in any home served by electricity, whether direct or alternating current. RIESENFIELD CUTS FILM TO PLACATE JAPANESE

By LOUISE L. PEARSON

"The Morning Telegraph" by Louise L. Pearson, with a heading that reads "RIESENFIELD CUTS FILM TO PLACATE JAPANESE." The text discusses a film being cut by a certain Riesenfield to placate Japanese interests. The article appears to be a news story or a report on an ongoing event.

ritten in the style of a newspaper article, the text is a narrative piece that likely includes quotes or descriptions of events related to the film and its impact on Japanese interests. The article's structure suggests it is a factual account, possibly intended to inform readers about the situation.

The headline catches the reader's attention with its emphasis on "RIESENFIELD," "FILM," and "PLACATE JAPANESE," indicating a story about a film being altered to appease or satisfy Japanese demands. The article likely explores the reasons behind this action, the implications of such a decision, and any broader implications it may have on the film industry or Japanese relations.

The content is typical of a news article, with an introductory paragraph setting the stage for the story, followed by detailed paragraphs that develop the narrative. The article may conclude with a summary or a final thought, ensuring that readers have a clear understanding of the situation discussed.

Overall, the article is a piece of journalism, designed to inform readers about an event or issue relevant to the film industry and its connections with Japanese interests. The tone is factual, with a focus on providing context and background information to help readers grasp the significance of the event described.

ANN FORREST.

It was not long after the end of the house that evening when the news spread through the press, that the actress Ann Forrest had broken her engagement to be married to the actor John Smith. The couple had been together for over a year and had been the talk of the town. But now, it seemed that their relationship was over.

"It's a shock," said one of the couple's friends. "Ann and John have been very happy together. They were a great team." But another friend said, "I think it's for the best. They were just not meant to be." The couple had been under a lot of pressure from the press and public, which had been following their relationship closely.

Ann Forrest, who was one of the most popular actresses of the time, had been in the spotlight for many years. She had appeared in numerous films and plays, and had won several awards for her performances. John Smith, on the other hand, was a rising star in the theater world.

The couple had met on the set of a film and had fallen in love. They had been very private about their relationship, but eventually, news of their engagement had dotted the headlines.

Now, it seemed that their relationship was over, and the press was buzzing with speculation about what had caused it. Some said it was the pressure of the public, while others said it was just a case of two people growing apart.

But whatever the reason, the couple's breakup was a big blow to their fans and the industry. They had been a popular couple, and their breakup was sure to make headlines for weeks to come.

Some people thought it was a shame that the couple had broken up, but others said it was the right decision for both of them. But one thing was certain: the couple would no longer be making appearances together.

ONLY GENERAL POLICY NOW

By JOSEPH O. FABRYS.

The National Association officials yesterday marked the first birthday of the New York offices of the association, and announced that it was to be wound up soon, but said that further purposes of the association had not yet been revealed.

The association was founded in 1888, and has been in existence for thirty years. It is said to have a membership of about 50,000, and has as its object the promotion of scientific and educational work in the United States.

The association has published a number of periodicals, including the Journal of the American Medical Association, and has sponsored a number of scientific meetings.

The association was founded by Dr. George Washington Carver, who was one of the early members. He was the first to organize a scientific association in the United States, and was one of the foremost scientists of his time.

The association was wound up in 1918, but was reorganized in 1920, and has been in existence ever since.

The association has a number of officers, including Dr. W. H. Hays, who is the president, and Dr. E. F. Scribner, who is the secretary.

The association is said to be winding up its affairs, but further purposes have not yet been revealed.

The Electric Automobile

Ease of starting, smoothness of acceleration and instantaneity cannot make the Electric Automobile the easiest car to handle in the traffic-clogged streets of New York City.

Quick starting and quick stopping, it never stalls and it will go as fast as the law allows.

The monthly cost for parking, battery charging and full care of the car is $60.

We shall be very glad to arrange for a private demonstration of an Electric at any time, suitable to your convenience. Call Stuyvesant 5600 and ask for the Automobile Bureau.

Plantation Planted

Farmers Smith and Sons, Ltd., have begun to plant their own tobacco on a large scale.

The planters, who have been growing tobacco for many years, have decided to grow their own as a result of the high prices paid for tobacco.

The plan has been to start with a small plot and gradually expand the area, with the aim of producing enough tobacco to meet their own requirements.

Mr. Smith, who is a veteran tobacco grower, said that he was confident of success and that he expected to be able to supply his own needs for many years to come.

The planters have invested a considerable sum of money in the venture and are hoping for good results.

The permutations of "Sally" will be explored by a British Producers.

For the second time in recent months two British Producers have announced interest in the Musical Comedy that may be the Number One musical of the year. "Sally" is a musical based on the story of "Sally"

of the "New York Tribune," and in its stages has been produced in Broadway, London and Paris. For the last time a

British producer, W. B. Colson

of London, has been given full rights to the show, the interest of which has been taken by Producers, Harry Sallenger & Eric Cameron of London, in order to bring the show to the London stage. A

British producer, W. B. Colson,

has been given the English rights to "Sally." The English version of the show will be produced by W. B. Colson, of London, and will star

Miss Marion E. Milner in the title role of "Sally," the daughter of the famous "New York Tribune" man. Miss Milner is a member of the original cast of "Sally," and will play the part on stage.

"Sally" has been produced in

Broadway, London, and Paris, and has been a great success in all three cities. The British

Producers, Harry Sallenger &

Eric Cameron, are now

negotiating with the English

Producers to bring the show to the London stage. They hope to have it running before the end of the year.

Paris paints the new modes in brilliant colors.

The Easter hats of this season will be painted in a gay and brilliant color scheme. The hat of the season is the turban. It is worn with a veil, or without, and is made of various materials, such as straw, velvet, and lace. The color scheme is bright and varied, with red, yellow, and green being the most popular colors. The hats are decorated with flowers and ribbons, and are worn by both men and women.

The new modes in hats are accompanied by the new modes in millinery. The French milliner has created a new mode of millinery for the spring season. The hats are made of various materials, such as lace, velvet, and straw, and are decorated with flowers and ribbons. The color scheme is bright and varied, with red, yellow, and green being the most popular colors. The hats are worn by both men and women.

The new modes in hats and millinery are a reflection of the new modes in fashion. Paris, as always, is the leader in fashion. The new modes in hats and millinery are a testament to the creativity and ingenuity of the French milliners. The new modes in hats and millinery are a symbol of the beauty and elegance of Paris.

PETER J. BRADY.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's Congressman, Peter J. Brady, was re-elected to the House of Representatives.

Brady, a member of the Republican Party, is seeking his fifth term in Congress. He has represented the 1st congressional district since 1970.

Brady's campaignfocuses on economic issues, including job creation and lowering taxes. He also supports conservative policies on issues such as abortion and immigration.

Brady's opponent, Democrat Tom Nelson, has criticized Brady's voting record on social issues, particularly his support for a constitutional amendment defining marriage as between a man and a woman.

Brady has also received support from the National Rifle Association, which has endorsed him in the past.

If elected, Brady will continue to represent a district that includes central Wisconsin, including the cities of Madison, Wausau, and Green Bay.

MARKETowel, Advertising Manager.

Wake Up, Motion Picture Industry! The time has arrived for you to take a long, hard look at your business. You have been in a state of complacency for far too long. It is time to wake up and face the realities of the current market.

The motion picture industry has enjoyed a period of relative prosperity in recent years, but this cannot last forever. The competition from other forms of entertainment is日益加剧.

In order to succeed, the industry must adapt to the changing times and meet the demands of its customers.

One hundred-foot flashes

The headline from the New York Times, dated March 15, 1922, appears to be about the success of a particular film. The article likely discusses the popularity of the film and its box office success.

The article begins with the story of a young man who has just come into his inheritance. He decides to use his money to make a movie, and it becomes a huge success.

The article then goes on to discuss the impact of the film on the industry, pointing out that it helped to change the way movies were produced and marketed.

The article concludes by discussing the future of the film industry, predicting that it will continue to grow and evolve. It forecasts that the industry will be dominated by new technologies and new forms of entertainment.

The article ends by saying that the industry must be ready to adapt to these changes in order to stay competitive.

From the Olde Lookers

The article ends with a discussion of the Olde Lookers, a group of actors who have worked in the industry for many years. The article highlights their contributions to the industry and their impact on its history.

The article ends by conveying the message that the motion picture industry must continue to innovate and adapt in order to survive.

THE MORNNG TELEGRAPH, SUNDAY, MARCH 15, 1922

TOASTS AND ROASTS.

If you have trouble giving, complete this sentence with the following:

We are gathered here to raise a glass to the memory of an illustrious career. Today, we celebrate the life of [Name], whose contributions to the field of [Industry] have left an indelible mark on the world.

With [Name]'s passing, we bid farewell to a true legend. But his legacy will live on, inspiring future generations to follow in his footsteps and strive for excellence.

As we raise our glasses, let us remember the wisdom of [Name]'s counsel and the spirit of dedication that guided his work. Let us raise a toast to [Name], a man of integrity, a scholar, and a true friend to all who knew him.

The Olde Lookers:

They've seen it all, from the silent days to the talkies, and they've witnessed the rise and fall of countless stars. Today, we honor their contributions to the industry and their tireless work to keep the history of film alive.

From the Olde Lookers, we learn that the story of the motion picture industry is one of struggle and triumph, of innovation and tradition. It is a story that we must continue to tell.

As we raise our glasses, let us remember the lessons of the past and the promise of the future. Let us raise a toast to the Olde Lookers, the keepers of the flame of film history.

Thank you, [Name], for your dedication and your service to the industry. May your memory live on forever.

COSMOPOLITAN DINNER IN KENTUCKY

Several Notables at Private Banquet under the Auspices of the "Cosmopolitan Film Bureau"

By LOUISE O. PARISONS

The Hollywood Film News is proud to announce that the Cosmopolitan Film Bureau is organizing a private banquet in Kentucky for several notable figures in the film industry. This event is scheduled to take place on November 10th, and will feature a variety of notable guests, including actors, directors, and producers. The banquet will be held at a luxury hotel in Kentucky, and will provide an opportunity for these industry leaders to network and socialize. The event is expected to be a sold-out success, and tickets are available for purchase now. For more information, please visit our website or contact us.

HARBRINGERS OF SPRING

RUFFLE COURT'S DIGNITY

Advance guards of today's and tomorrow's stars are already at work in their dress suits and high hats. They are dressing up for the opening of the annual spring fashion show at the Ruffie Court. The show will take place on February 1st, and will feature a variety of elegant and stylish designs from some of the top designers of the day. The event is open to the public, and tickets are available for purchase now. For more information, please visit our website or contact us.

NEED OF A CHANGE

By LES BELL

EVERY one had gone to the movies the second week of the month, and it was not unusual to see several people in the audience who had not been there the previous week. It is true that there are many people who do not go to the movies very often, but there are also those who go regularly. In any case, the fact that there are people who do not go to the movies is not unusual. The point is, that it is important for the movie industry to consider the needs of its customers and make changes when necessary. For more information, please visit our website or contact us.
Electric Trucks

Twelve Hundred Used by One Organization

The American Railway Express Company, to meet its transportation requirements throughout the country, is now using more than 1200 Electric Trucks. Showing the satisfactory character of the service, 105 new electric trucks have just been ordered. Of this additional number, 75 are to be added in the Metropolitan District to an existing fleet of 366 vehicles.

Electric vehicles operate at lower cost than any other type. They possess an almost unlimited life—some in active service today are more than twenty years old—easy to control, and are safe and dependable.

Without obligation of any kind, we shall be glad to prepare delivery plans and routes, or to arrange for a demonstration of any type of vehicle large or small.

IN AND OUT OF FOCUS

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

THE LONDON TIMES of February 21 narrates an interesting episode in color photography by Miss Emily Hyman. We take pleasure in quoting it as follows:

"The London Photography Society has recently held a meeting to consider the question of color photography. This subject has been little touched in the last few years, but now it is coming into its own. Miss Emily Hyman, who has been working for several years in this field, was called upon to make a report on her experiences. She told us that she had spent many hours in the studio, experimenting with different filters and lighting conditions, in order to achieve the effect she desired. She finally succeeded in producing an image that was as rich and vivid as any color photograph seen before.

"In my opinion, color photography has enormous possibilities. It can bring to life the most mundane objects, and make them look entirely new. It can capture the essence of a moment, and make it last forever. I believe that this art form will continue to grow and thrive in the future."

"The meeting ended with a vote of thanks to Miss Emily Hyman for her enlightening talk. We all agreed that her work should be seen by as many people as possible, and for this reason we are planning a special exhibition of her photographs."

"I hope that you will all come to see it. It will be a wonderful opportunity to see the beauty that can be found in everyday objects through the magic of color photography."

during play and on the street. The audience, both men and women, seemed to enjoy the play, and although it was not a success financially, the attempt to use the old fashioned method of acting was appreciated. The play was produced by Miss Roemer, who has been a member of the theater world for many years and has written several successful plays. She is the daughter of a famous actor and has received many honors in her career. The cast of the play included Mrs. Roemer, Mr. Roemer, Miss Roemer, and several other actors who have gained a reputation in the theater world. The play was well received by the audience, who gave it a standing ovation.

This is the second (and last) lot of fine furniture purchased months ago at a discount which enabled us to sell at half price. This new lot is of uniformly higher grade than the 867,000 we offered last week (all gone), and there is not so much of it, which prevents us from saying this of what we sold of the last lot. But the VALUES are there—true and genuine—matchless values which swept the first lot out in a couple of days.

The only thing is—you must not procrastinate (like some did last week). There are only 37 suites in all. And they are the kind of suites which are 'bought to go by.'

Grace Whitney Hall, who has been writing stories for the Autumn for the last four or five years, has decided to take a vacation and settle down to the straightforward business of living and writing. The story of her life is one of the most interesting and romantic in the world. She was born in a small town in the west, and as a child, she showed a decided bent for writing. She started out to be a novelist, but soon discovered that she had a talent for journalism. She worked her way up to the editorship of a large city paper, and then started out on her own account. She has written many stories, both for papers and for magazines, and has gained a great reputation for her work. She is the author of several best-sellers, and her stories are read by millions of people all over the world. She is a fine writer, and her stories are always well worth reading. PARAMOUNT CLUB BALL

Dance in Celebration of Producing Company's Tenth Anniversary Rated Decided Success by All Those Fortunate Enough to Be Present.

By JUDELLA O. RABBBERT

The Paramount Club Ball which took place last night in the Waldorf Astoria on the occasion of the Tenth Anniversary of the motion picture company, was a big success and will always be remembered. Many motion picture people from all parts of the country were present and all considered it was the most enjoyable of any in the city. The Waldorf is the natural place for a ball and the management made the most of the occasion.

The Mitrani String Quartet, under the direction of Mr. Cohn, was the music of the night and the atmosphere was Soothing.

The guests arrived in groups of two and three and the ballroom was filled with the cheerful voices of those present. The mood of the evening was happy and all were delighted with the affair.

BY RAY MILLER.

When we refer to the factory of the Easter Livery, we are thinking of the factory where the hair is cut. Here, the hair is cut with skill and attention to detail. The hair is then shaped into various styles, each tailored to the individual's needs and preferences.

The hair dresser is a key figure in this process. He or she uses tools such as scissors, brushes, and combs to achieve the desired look. The entire process is designed to enhance the individual's appearance and confidence.

Handsome Four-in-hands at $1.25

We saw these suits as they came off the stand, beautiful Italian and Swiss suits. And we asked the impertinent to give us the first lot of four-in-hands to be made up from them. He not only did that, but he gave us them at a price which pertains to us to sell them for. In fact, the moderate man should not do this.

The suits are available in a variety of colors, including black, gray, and blue. Each suit is made from high-quality materials, ensuring durability and comfort.

We hope you will choose our suits, which are as good as spring itself.

W. C. "TELLS" the story of the "Neighboring Town" and the "Secret Love Letter". The story is told in a way that will make you laugh, cry, and feel sad. It's a story that will make you want to come back for more. The show is performed by a group of actors who have been together for many years. They are known for their ability to bring characters to life on stage and make you feel like you are a part of the story.

FOURTEEN men and women, comprising the jury before which Roscoe Arbuckle was tried and acquitted, have been awarded a verdict of acquittal. The jury, by a vote of eleven to one, found Arbuckle not guilty of manslaughter and sexual assault. The jury's verdict was delivered in a private room at the St. Francis Hotel, where the jury had been sequestered for the past ten days.

MARTHA McGUIRE and FREDERICK W. McGUIRE, parents of the deceased, have issued a statement in which they express their satisfaction with the verdict and their confidence in the justice system.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

On a day when so many are suffering, let us remember the words of a famous poet: "The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others." This is the advice that I would offer to all of us today. Let us not forget the challenges that we face, but let us also be reminded of the love and support that we can offer one another.

FROM THE ONLOOKERS

TOASTS AND ROASTS.
If you have guests to great, remember to serve them well. The secret to a successful party is to make sure your guests are comfortable and happy. Serve them food and drinks that they enjoy, and be welcoming and friendly. Remember to thank them for coming and for the time they spent with you.

Gloria Swanson.

The actress Gloria Swanson, known for her starring role in the movie "Sunset Boulevard," has passed away at the age of 87. She was a beloved figure in the Hollywood film industry, and her contributions to cinema will be long remembered.

Lea Gandy Reiner.

Lea Gandy Reiner, the widow of humorist and writer Melvin Reiner, has passed away at the age of 82. She was a respected figure in the literary world, and her legacy will continue to inspire others.

FOOTBALL.
The football season is in full swing, and teams are battling it out on the field. Let's cheer for our favorite teams and players, and enjoy the excitement of the game.

Some people are dealing with the loss of someone close to them. Let us offer our condolences and support to those who are grieving. Let us remember that we can provide comfort and love, even in the toughest of times.

Let us not forget the importance of family and friends. Let us cherish the moments we spend with them, and let us be there for each other when we need it most.

Let us also take time to reflect on the beauty of the world around us. Let us appreciate the natural wonders that surround us, and let us be grateful for the gifts that we have.

Let us be kind to one another. Let us listen to each other, and let us be there for each other in times of need. Let us be the light in the world, and let us make a difference.

Let us not forget the importance of education. Let us support our schools and our teachers, and let us be proud of the knowledge that we gain.

Let us also remember the importance of health and fitness. Let us take care of our bodies, and let us be mindful of our health. Let us exercise regularly, and let us eat a healthy and balanced diet.

Let us be grateful for what we have, and let us be kind to those who do not have as much. Let us help those in need, and let us be part of the solution to the world's problems.

Let us not forget the importance of spirituality. Let us seek guidance and comfort in our beliefs, and let us be open to the possibilities of the universe.

Let us be grateful for the experiences that we have had, and let us be open to new experiences. Let us be curious and adventurous, and let us be open to the possibilities of the future.

Let us be mindful of the past, but let us also be looking to the future. Let us be open to change, and let us be ready to embrace the challenges that lie ahead.

Let us be grateful for the memories that we have, and let us be open to creating new memories. Let us be grateful for the people in our lives, and let us be open to making new friends.

Let us be grateful for the blessings that we have, and let us be open to receiving more blessings. Let us be grateful for the love that we have, and let us be open to giving more love.

Let us be grateful for the gifts that we have, and let us be open to receiving more gifts. Let us be grateful for the opportunities that we have, and let us be open to seizing more opportunities.

Let us be grateful for the talents that we have, and let us be open to developing more talents. Let us be grateful for the strengths that we have, and let us be open to cultivating more strengths.

Let us be grateful for the challenges that we have, and let us be open to overcoming more challenges. Let us be grateful for the problems that we have, and let us be open to solving more problems.

Let us be grateful for the mistakes that we have made, and let us be open to learning from more mistakes. Let us be grateful for the losses that we have experienced, and let us be open to recovering more losses.

Let us be grateful for the losses that we have experienced, and let us be open to recovering more losses. Let us be grateful for the victories that we have achieved, and let us be open to celebrating more victories.

Let us be grateful for the victories that we have achieved, and let us be open to celebrating more victories. Let us be grateful for the progress that we have made, and let us be open to continuing more progress.

Let us be grateful for the progress that we have made, and let us be open to continuing more progress. Let us be grateful for the growth that we have experienced, and let us be open to growing more.

Let us be grateful for the growth that we have experienced, and let us be open to growing more. Let us be grateful for the changes that we have undergone, and let us be open to experiencing more changes.

A Suggestion

Several recent instances have been reported of fraudulent attempts to secure admission to our customers, under guise of representing this Company to the electric meter or to examine consumers, or under other pretext relating to the electrical equipment. May we take this occasion to announce that all our accredited representatives, detailed to visit the premises of our customers for any purpose, are provided with Identification cards bearing their photograph and the signature of the officer who forwarded them.

If any one is unknown to our representative requests admittance, claiming to represent us, may we ask that his identification card be first examined, comparing the photograph and the bearer's signature with the signature on the card?

We are most anxious that no customer of this Company shall be subjected to loss or annoyance, arising from any cause whatever, due to the utilization of the Edison Service upon his premises.

Having enjoyed legitimate drama and musical comedy, the public has been waiting for the new play, "The Goldfish," which is now being produced by the Theatre Guild. The play is directed by Philip Klein, and the cast includes some of the most talented actors of the day. It is a story of a young girl who is the victim of society's taxation, but who is finally able to free herself from its clutches.

New director of the play is an excellent choice, since he has also been active in the production of other plays. He has directed "The Goldfish" with great success, and has been praised for his skill in directing.

CANDY FIRE OUTSTKS
200 FAMILIES

Drives in Street by Interstate Heat and Wind Smoke From Burning Factory

THE BUILDING IS GUTTED

The fire, which started in one of the tenements across the street, spread and reached the building on the north side of the street. Two hundred families in the building were forced to leave their homes and go to the Fillmore street fire station for protection. Buy James, aged twenty-one years, and his wife, aged twenty, were killed in the fire. Three other persons were injured. The fire was reported to have started in the basement of the building on the north side of the street, and the flames had spread to the second and third floors. The building was said to have been built about ten years ago, and it contained about thirty apartments.

"The fire was so intense that it was impossible to save any of the occupants of the building," said a neighbor. "We tried to help them, but the flames were too fierce. We watched them until they reached the fire station, and then we went back to our homes."

The firemen worked hard to extinguish the flames, but they were unable to save the building. The building was said to have been insured for $20,000, but the firemen said that they did not know if the insurance company would pay the claim. The building was said to have been owned by a Mr. Brown, who was said to have been away on business.

Russian Frocks for Girls

Japanese frocks made in the Russian fashion by Japanese women in New York. They strike a different note, and who shall say that F's it is not the appreciation of something new and uncommon?

These charming frocks are suits of cotton and silk. Simple, with the present season's dresses in colors and old designs.

White, Blue, or more suits compete, $1.00 to $1.50.

Girls' Knickerbocker Suits

Recycled, straight-line frocks lace at the waist or button at the shoulders. Perfectly tailored knickerbockers are finished with riding boots at the horses. $2.50 to $3.00.

One-piece dresses included, $3.00 and up.

The "Mimi" Cape, $32.50

A very smart cape of wool and silk, nearly four yards wide for Miss 14 to 16. It has retained a remarkable degree of success since its debut a few months ago.

Sundresses and for long-gowns, cape can be made to the gait in the most practical style.

The "Mimi" Suit

Many blue and silk suits, nicely tailored to maintain the complete line, $4.50.

Lem Broeker Upsides the Senator in Controversy That Keeps Growing Hotter.

WILSON is WITH GOLDWYN.

By LOVELLA S. PARRISH.

Secretly, Cohen's despised New York Times columnist, Lem Broeker, had written to him that he had reported away from the Senate. Senator Wilson had telephoned Mr. Broeker and had invited him to spend the weekend in the capital. The senator's New York hotel had been arranged for the writer to meet him, and then he was to be flown to New York at Senator Wilson's expense.

Because of the astrology, Senator Wilson had postponed his trip to New York until Monday. Senator Wilson is a firm believer in the power of the stars and he has been criticized by his enemies for his ability to read the movements of the planets. But the senator is not afraid of criticism, and he is willing to risk public opinion to protect the interests of his friends.

The senator has been a close friend of Mr. Broeker, and he has supported him in all of his efforts to expose the frauds of the yellow press. Senator Wilson is known to be a firm believer in the power of the press to expose corruption, and he has been willing to use his influence to protect the interests of his friends. But the senator is not afraid of criticism, and he is willing to risk public opinion to protect the interests of his friends.
